

This conference has been scheduled with an eye toward ensuring maximum attendance and participation on the part of all Montana lawyers working with or within the Office of the Montana Public Defender. Because the conference runs concurrently with the Montana Prosecutors' Summer Conference most courts across the state should be dark. Additionally, regional administrators are in contact with their region's judges to try to ensure maximum attendance by all state defenders.

Salaried attorneys and investigators. All salaried defenders and investigators are expected to attend. In-house attorneys will receive free tuition credit (15 hours of CLE), free lodging (in MSU dorm rooms), free meals on Thursday and Friday, and reimbursement for mileage incurred from their home office to Bozeman and return. Your regional administrator will provide details.

Private attorneys and investigators. You are encouraged to attend. You will receive free tuition (15 hours of CLE) plus free meals on Thursday and Friday. Additionally, you can book an MSU dorm room for a fee than lower hotel rates.

Welcome

On July 1, 2006 — for the first time in our state's history — indigent public defender services in Montana will be consolidated into a central, coordinated system. As part of the transition process I am pleased to invite all of Montana's Public Defenders and investigators to the first annual Montana Public Defender Summer Training Conference.

This orientation conference is intended to assist all of us in developing a clear understanding of the goals and objectives of the Montana Public Defender Act and to demonstrate to each of you that the central office staff and I are fully committed to providing you with every resource you need to achieve the highest possible level of confidence and proficiency as you undertake to represent Montana's indigent clientele.

I look forward to seeing all of you in Bozeman.
